Often, public employers will simply want to conduct an administrative investigation to ascertain whether misconduct has occurred, and to determine if disciplinary action is warranted. Accordingly, many employers begin investigatory interviews by asking employees to sign "Garrity Statements," "Garrity Advisements," or "Garrity Warnings" (in federal employment, "Kalkines Warnings").

For many years our lab has studied moral judgment and decision making. More recently, we've expanded our research to address basic questions concerning the brain's infrastructure for complex thought. This new research on high-level cognition examines how concepts combine to form ideas, how ideas are represented and manipulated through reasoning, the representation of propositional ...
