Steve Lindsay developed and patented his miniature power impact air engraving tool graver. The air engraver was originally designed for his fine line banknote style engraving work at very low air pressures. However, the power the tool provides may be adjusted with the length of stroke adjustment. With the adjustment working in a manner similar to a focusing ring on a camera and using greater ...

Gothic architecture is an architectural style that flourished in Europe during the High and Late Middle Ages. The style evolved from Romanesque architecture and was succeeded by Renaissance architecture. It originated in 12th-century France and lasted into the 16th century.. Gothic architecture was known during the period as opus francigenum ("French/Frankish work"), with the term Gothic first ...

Palladian architecture is a European style of architecture derived from and inspired by the designs of the Venetian architect Andrea Palladio (1508–1580). That which is recognised as Palladian architecture today is an evolution of Palladio's original concepts. Palladio's work was strongly based on the symmetry, perspective and values of the formal classical temple architecture of the Ancient ...
