

uncertainty calibration and probability pdf

In metrology, measurement uncertainty is a non-negative parameter characterizing the dispersion of the values attributed to a measured quantity. All measurements are subject to uncertainty and a measurement result is complete only when it is accompanied by a statement of the associated uncertainty.

5 Mil-Std 45662(A) is a U.S. military standard. First issued as a Mil-C in early 1960s. Requirements for establishing and running a Calibration System. Rescinded 1995, replaced by ANSI/NCSL

Understanding and Complying with Metrology Requirements

The objective of analytical method validation is to ensure that every future measurement in routine analysis will be close enough to the unknown true value for the content of the analyte in the sample.
